

ALASKAN EXPERIENCE!

Many of our family, small group, guided and unguided trips feature a fascinating variety of scenic locations and exciting activities along choice remote areas of the Inside Passage. Our trips are fabulous, fantastic and just simply FUN in Alaska!

On these all-inclusive voyages, you will experience the real Alaska most cruise ship visitors rarely get to see. Here's a just a sample of some of the fun things you'll do and see:

Shrimping

Set out the shrimp traps on the way into a secluded harbor for the night and haul up the catch in the morning. You won't believe how huge these tasty treats really are until you actually see them!

Crabbing

Set out the crab traps and a try your hand at a few of the other secret methods we have for catching a bounty of the delectable crustaceans for an all-you-can-eat feast.

Deep Sea Fishing

Drop a line with our professional high quality fishing rods & reels for a halibut, rockfish or salmon. The fresh catch of the day will be prepared by our chef for an unbelievable culinary delight.

Whale Watching

Our cruising areas feature some of the best whale watching in the world. Observe the amazing cooperative bubble feeding behavior. You'll be cruising in areas that have some of the highest concentrations of whales on the planet. At times, they literally surround the Northern Song!

Marine Mammal Observation

In addition to whales, these abundant waters team with Steller sea lions, harbor seals, bow riding Dall's porpoise and the chance encounters with killer whales.

Photography

From the first minutes aboard the Northern Song until the lines are tied back on the dock at the end of the trip, the scenic panoramas and wildlife provide endless opportunities for shutterbugs to click through gigabytes of digital storage.

Sea Kayaking

The Alaska Adventures' sea kayaks are at your disposal to cruise remote bays silently on the lookout for wildlife both swimming and along the shore.

ALASKAN EXPERIENCE!

Glaciers & Icebergs

We'll cruise through an iceberg-strewn fjord and observe the amazing sights and hear the thundering echoes of a calving glacier. The ice fields and glaciers of Southeast Alaska are some of the few remnants of the once-vast ice sheets. Today there are still over 100,000 glaciers in Alaska, although ice covers only 5 percent of the state. There's even the chance to hike up to and walk on a glacier.

Salmon Streams

Summer runs of salmon returning to the rivers and island streams of Southeast Alaska number in the tens of millions. Salmon are a vital component of the fragile ecosystem. One can watch for hours as they swim and jam up into streams to spawn.

Clam Digging

A favorite for many guests is a trip to shore at low tide to dig a bucket of succulent clams for a real treat of the freshest and most delicious steamed clams.

Rain Forest Hiking & Exploring

It is fun to hike on the moss-covered ground of the old-growth temperate rain-forested islands. But we need to keep an eye out for bears.

Beach Combing

The beaches of this archipelago of islands and mainland provide excellent opportunities for walking secluded stretches of shoreline that rarely see foot prints, other than those of wildlife.

Flightseeing

As long as you're here, we'll arrange for a float plane to land at the Northern Song and load up the gang for an incredible flight up over the magnificent ice fields, glaciers and mountains. It's an experience never to be forgotten!

Ancient & Recent Culture

All the way from the ancient cultures of the Tlingit Tribe of Native Americans to the more recent whaling, fish salteries and canneries, the not always obvious history of the area is fascinating and full of intriguing allure.
